

Study in the USA - Advising

LPI Learning's Study in the USA – Advising matches LPI admission advisors with students and their families who seek assistance with high school, undergraduate or graduate admission to institutions in the US. Our admission advisors advise in-person via Skype, on-line or by phone and serve both domestic and international students. LPI provides superior service to students and families while guiding them through the admission application process.

SCOPE OF SERVICES

A. LPI Learning Responsibilities Include:

- Timely and wise assistance in the process of considering appropriate institutions to apply to and attend
- Assist in creating a list of six to eight “first choice” high schools or colleges/universities based on his/her key criteria
- Review of academic record to-date
- Advice on making successful campus visits and preparing for interviews
- Individualized counseling via phone, e-mail, and face-to-face (Skype or in person) throughout the entire admission process
- Guidance regarding cost and financial aid
- Updated admission options (e.g., Princeton Review, AP credit, etc.)
- Professional review of student essays, portfolios, etc
- Assistance in achieving your goals and help students make confident choices

B. Parent and Student Responsibilities Include:

- Provide school transcript and standardized test results
- Maintain communication with LPI Learning
- Provide essays, application materials, or other information in accordance with LPI Learning deadlines
- Complete applications and send test scores to institutions and other required documents (transcripts, etc)
- Secure academic and personal recommendations
- Monitor status of applications and notify institutions of enrollment intentions

BENEFITS

- Identify which path to take for your academic career
- Target institutions which match your academic and personal goals
- Minimize stress
- Form a network with academic advisors and admissions counselors
